TARGET FOR TERROR

Fanatics planned attacks on Queen's Guard and Big Ben

A FANATICAL teacher plotted a series of Islamic State-inspired attacks on Big Ben, the Queen's Guard, and Westfield shopping centre, saying "we are a death squad sent by Allah", a court heard.

Umar Haque, 25, allegedly enlisted the help and support of fellow extremists at his local east London mosque where he tried to groom children with role-play and extremist videos.

He also showed pupils as young as 11 videos of beheadings in a bid to "foster and encourage" them into adopting his extreme ideology at the Islamic school where he worked, jurors heard.

Haque became "fascinated" by last year's Westminster Bridge attack and discussed bringing a reign of terror to London in secretly recorded chat, the Old Bailey heard.

In a bugged conversation with one of his co-accused days after the March 22 attack, Haque allegedly said: "So what I want to personally is launch different attacks in all the different areas, one in Westminster, one in Stratford, one in Forest Gate... in so many different areas, yeah."

"Immediately there's one focus to all the police. Get off the streets. Civilians get off the streets."

"We're here to cause terror, my brother. We are a death squad sent by Allah and his messengers to avenge my Arab brothers' blood..."

Prosecutor Mark Heywood QC told jurors that in 2016 and early 2017, Haque was set on carrying out one or more attacks with others on civilian and police targets.

He said: "Umar Haque was fascinated by the warped and extreme ideology of Islamic State.

"He had identified methods and targets. Those targets were numerous but included for example, the Queen's Guard, the courts, Transport for London, Shia Muslims, Westfield, banks in the City of London, Heathrow, west London, Parliament, Big Ben, the English Defence League or Britain First, embassies, media stations."

Abuthaher Mamun, 19, Muhammad Abid, 27, and Nadeem Patel, 26, who knew Haque through the Ripple Road mosque in Barking, are accused of helping him.

Mamun assisted with planning and set about raising money to fund it through trading in options, Abid was involved in "discussion and lower level of support" while Patel agreed to provide a gun, jurors were told.

In April 2016, Haque came to the attention of authorities when he tried to travel to Turkey from Heathrow, the court heard.

His deadly plans were revealed in bugged conversations in Abid's Volkswagen and home and Haque's Ford Focus the following year, the court heard.

Haque discussed his fears of a "snitch" and justification for killing civilians during a five-hour conversation with Abid in the wake of the Westminster Bridge attack.

He allegedly discussed using a car, leaving bombs in a lift, and going for "a quick spin" around Westminster.

On May 2 last year, talking in his car, Haque allegedly told Mamun that the day IS took Arabia would be like "winning the World Cup".

Mr Heywood told how Haque taught children aged between 11 and 16 at the Lantern of Knowledge Islamic School in Leyton, between September 2015 and September 2016.

He showed his pupils images of guns, burning of passports and beheadings with a knife or sword to "encourage them into his mindset", Mr Heywood said.

He and Mamun were also heavily involved in running the Ripple Road mosque where Haque assumed the role of "teacher", jurors were told.

In the months before his arrest in early 2017, he "manipulated" the vulnerable children, telling them he intended to die a martyr and IS was "good", the court heard.

He showed them "horrifying" images, including one of a dead boy, saying they would meet the same fate if they did not "join" and promise to become a martyr, the court heard.

Haque allegedly made the children do "push-ups, races and grappling" and act out the roles of police and attackers in scenarios with weapons and a car bomb, while he shouted "Allahu Akbar".

The defendant swore the children to secrecy, Mr Heywood told jurors: "He said whatever they spoke about in the mosque must stay in the mosque."

Haque and Mamun are jointly charged with preparing acts of terrorism between March 25 and May 18, 2017.

Haque is further charged with preparing terrorist acts by leading exercises with children at the mosque and dissemination of terrorist publications at the Lantern of Knowledge school.

DEAF: Iain Duncan Smith MP uses a radio aid to read to Sophia Green, with her parents Natalie and Thomas Green

Loud and clear

IAN DUNCAN Smith MP has challenged the boroughs of Redbridge and Waltham Forest to improve support for deaf children under five in noisy environments.

The MP for Chingford & Woodford Green attended an event in Parliament, hosted by the National Deaf Children's Society on January 10, to learn how pre-school deaf children can benefit from radio aids technology.

The technology can amplify speech and cut out background noise, helping deaf children hear their parents and teachers clearly, at an important stage of their linguistic development.

Recent research from the National Deaf Children's Society shows that they have significant benefits for deaf children and are key to increasing conversations between parents and deaf children under five in noisy environments.

The study showed conversations between parents and deaf children in a car – with the radio playing – increased by 144 per cent with the technology.

Mr Duncan Smith said: "I was impressed when I used the technology at the event reading a story to one of the children visiting from our constituency. As a result, I have now written to both Waltham Forest Council and Redbridge Council asking them to provide this life-changing technology to pre-school deaf children in our area."

"Sadly at present, Waltham Forest and Redbridge are two of the 54 per cent of councils in England who do not consistently provide deaf children in the early years with this transformational technology to use at home."

"Yet with the Department for Education making funding available for this through the Special Provision Capital Fund, local authorities can fund this vital technology."

"With more than 550 deaf children across our boroughs, funding radio aids will positively impact many deaf children locally, allowing them to thrive, acquire language at a faster rate, and to help them achieve just as well as their hearing friends."

Terror gang trial

Abid is accused of having information about Haque's plans and Patel is charged with plotting with Haque to possess a firearm or imitation firearm.

The defendants have denied the charges.

However, Haque has admitted charges of collection of terrorist information and dissemination of a terrorist publication at the mosque.

Patel has admitted to possessing a prohibited weapon.

In May last year, Mamun allegedly agreed with Haque to raise funds to pay for "guns and cars".

Mr Heywood told jurors that between May 5 and 15 last year, he invested £918 through online options trading outlets.

All four defendants were arrested on May 17 last year. When Haque was stopped, police seized his phone, which had recordings of IS leader Abu Bakr al-Baghdadi on it.

Inside Haque's Ford Focus, police uncovered a large sharp-tipped kitchen knife, the court heard.

In a search of his home, officers found a collection of IS propaganda and links to YouTube videos on how to make explosive devices on a memory stick.

Officers also found a notebook containing a list with reference to the "benefits of martyrdom". Items on the next page included buying weapons and a van, the court heard.

In a search of Patel's home, police found a Walther P99 pistol and a carbon dioxide powered pistol.

In police interview, Haque said he was a loyal follower of IS and regarded running someone over in a car as "a drop in the ocean".

Haque, of Manor Park, and Mamun, of Barking, both deny preparation of terrorist acts between March 25 and May 18 last year. Haque denies a further count of preparation of terrorist acts, for allegedly leading exercises in physical training and role play at the Ripple Road mosque.

He also denies one count of dissemination of terrorist publications, for showing videos at the school between July 2015 and February 2016.

Abid, of Newham, denies one count of failing to disclose information about acts of terrorism.

Haque and Patel, of Forest Gate, both deny one count of conspiracy to possess a firearm.

Haque has admitted one count of dissemination of terrorist publications and charges of collection of information, while Patel has pleaded guilty to one count of possession of a firearm.

The trial, which is due to go on for six weeks, continues.

NEWS*Charity needs foster carers for cats

A NATIONAL feline welfare charity is looking for short-term foster carers in Redbridge to look after cats and kittens in need of a home.

Cat Protection is asking cat-lovers to register as a carer across postcodes IG1 to IG7 and look after cats on a short-term basis, while the charity searches for permanent homes.

Veterinary experience is not required and Cats Protection will provide litter, food, toys, an outdoor cat-pen, and if necessary will cover veterinary bills.

Foster cats must not go outer to fostering.

Ceri Netts, Cats Protection's regional development manager for East London and Essex, said: "We provide help, support and training for fosterers to ensure the welfare of both cats and fosterers from the outset."

"We never ask a fosterer to care for a cat with which they do not feel comfortable and work with our fosterers to ensure fostering is an enjoyable, fulfilling experience."

Anyone interested should email bsuee@cats.org.uk or call 01825 741 995 for more information before March 15.

Policing merger under fire after crime rate soars

A COUNCILLOR has claimed the tri-borough policing merger is "not fit for purpose" after burglaries and robberies increased three-fold since it was introduced.

Police have been forced to launch a special operation to combat the sharp rise, since police teams for Havering, Redbridge and Barking and Dagenham were merged.

The pilot merger policing model, dubbed the East Area Basic Command Unit, was launched in April 2017.

Since then, said the Metropolitan Police Service, burglaries and robberies across the three boroughs have risen by 300 per cent.

Operation Mexico will deploy a unit of specialist officers to focus on burglary and robbery offences.

Havering councillor Graham Williamson, said: "I think it is another sign that the tri-borough merger is not fit for purpose.

"While I am pleased they are putting together a team to combat it, if there is a systemic reason for the rise, then maybe it is the merger that should be dropped."

Last year the tri-borough scheme was criticised by Havering Council leader, Roger Ramsey.

Cllr Ramsey questioned whether the pilot should continue after reports emerged of police failing to meet targets for response times.

In September of last year the Yellow Advertiser reported the police's average response time to significant incidents in Havering was six hours 24 minutes.

The Met Police target is for 90 per cent of these calls to be reached within 60 minutes.

In October, Detective Chief Superintendent Jason Gwillim, commander of the tri-borough unit, admitted to the Y4 it had been difficult and conceded that the scale of the fall in response time performance was not anticipated.

He said response times would be one of the force's responsibilities moving forward.

Two senior officers – Mr Gwillim and Detective Superintendent Neil Matthews – formally announced Operation Mexico last week.

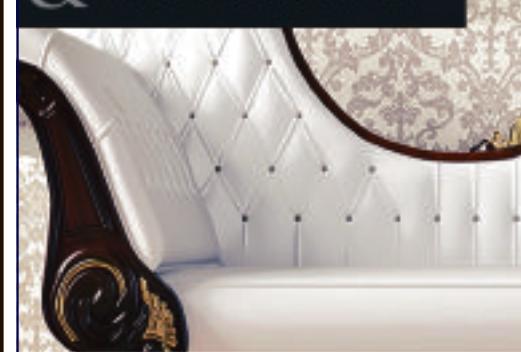

At the launch, Mr Gwillim said he believed that the East Area merger was going well.

He said: "There are some performance indicators which show we are doing better in some areas than pre-merger.

"The East Area are now focusing on a different way of working and thinking, to be more coordinated, proactive and responsive in our methods of policing. Taking a more holistic approach to reducing crime and aiming to 'turn the tap off earlier' by preventing victims from becoming victims in the first place."

Mr Matthews said: "Operation Mexico is a way of using resources more intelligently to tackle these crimes."

He also encouraged members of the public to come forward with any information that may assist the police in bringing offenders to justice.

Irons star plants the first spade at £6m Youth Zone

WEST Ham United captain Mark Noble was on hand to plant the first spade signalled the beginning of work on a youth-orientated sports centre.

The project in Barking and Dagenham will be London's first ever OnSide Youth Zone. OnSide is a charity dedicated to building a nationwide network of modern youth centres.

Projected to open in 2019, the £6million centre will have an array of facilities and activities from sports in the four-court sports hall, martial arts room and 3G kick pitch; to art, drama, music, cooking, and employability opportunities.

Youth Zone's chairman Charles Mindenhall was joined by Barking and Dagenham council leader Darren Rodwell, and West Ham star Noble, at a groundbreaking celebration in Parsloes Park, Dagenham.

Noble said: "This is a big day for Barking and Dagenham. You can see from the youngsters who attended the excitement they are getting from a new Youth Zone being built in the borough."

"Dreams can certainly become a reality and a development like this can only improve their chances of achieving their goals."

Construction costs will be split, Barking and Dagenham Council will pay half, and the Jack Petchey Foundation and the Queen's Trust both contributing £1.5m each.

Mr Mindenhall said: "We always tell people that Youth Zones offer young people somewhere to go, something to do and someone to talk to but they are so much more than that."

Young people aged eight to 19, and those up to 25 with additional needs, will pay just 50p per visit and £5 for an annual membership.

The Youth Zone will cost £1m per year to run with charity OnSide committed to raising that, with most of the money coming from private and philanthropic contributions.

Cllr Rodwell said: "This has been a long time coming for our young people and will be the best facility for them to use in Barking and Dagenham. It shows we are investing in them and that must continue."

Missing girl found safe and well

A FOUR-YEAR-OLD girl found in Spain after going missing with her schizophrenic mother has returned to England.

Elliana Shand was at the centre of private family court litigation when she disappeared from her east London home with Jessica Richards, after social services staff at Barking and Dagenham Council raised concerns about her care.

A judge in the Family Division of the High Court heard on Friday that Elliana had been found safe and well with her mother in Spain by police and is back in the country.

She will stay with her paternal grandparents in the Wembley area.

RECORD BREAKER

Kane on target again as Spurs put four past inconsistent Everton

STRIKER: Harry Kane's goal scoring spree continues

Football

Tottenham Hotspur 4 Everton 0
Brian Jeeves reporting from Wembley Stadium

MAURICIO Pochettino was delighted with his Spurs side after they eased to a 4-0 Premier League victory over Everton at the weekend.

Harry Kane bagged a brace, becoming Spurs' all-time record Premier League goalscorer, while Heung-Min Son and Christian Eriksen were also on target as the North Londoners kept in touch with the top four with a scintillating display.

Everton arrived in the capital without a win in six. Boss Sam Allardyce included new £27million striker Cenk Tosun following his move from Turkish outfit Besiktas – a player the Toffees chief labelled the best in Europe at the price.

Nevertheless, it was Spurs who were very much on the front-foot from the off. Son glanced over Eriksen's fizzing dead-ball, while Serge Aurier continued to trouble the visitors from the right flank.

Wayne Rooney scuffed wide as Everton looked to stem the early tide and offer a threat on the counter.

Then only an assistant's flag denied Rooney an opening goal, the former England man nodding past Hugo Lloris after Gylfi Sigurdsson's corner had been knocked on.

In response, Kane swiftly tested Toffees keeper Jordan Pickford on three occasions in a matter of minutes as Spurs looked for a breakthrough.

And soon after it came. Son arrived to sweep home from close range, after Aurier had fashioned the opening with a low cross from the right.

Kane had been largely thwarted throughout the opening half. But two minutes after the restart, he equalled Teddy Sheringham's haul and doubled Spurs' advantage.

Son drove in from the left, leaving him with the simplest of opportunities from close range.

Pickford produced an unorthodox stop to deny Kane his second of the afternoon with a speculative strike from distance. Then, Son went even closer, but his vicious left-footed attempt cannoned back off the foot of a post.

But Spurs now had the bit between their teeth as Kane took the club's Premier League record for himself after arriving unmarked to meet Eric Dier's pinpoint centre with an untidy, but nonetheless effective finish.

Pickford denied Son and Dele Alli in quick succession as Spurs threatened to run riot. But the home side was playing some irresistible football, and with time running out Eriksen fired in after Alli had flicked on, giving Spurs their fourth of the afternoon.

In truth, Spurs have played better this season. However, this latest victory maintained their four-point advantage over rivals Arsenal and kept them on the cusp of the Champions League places.

Speaking after the match, Pochettino said: "I'm very happy. The performance was amazing. I think the effort and the way that we played was very good."

"I'm so happy because it's three points that give us the belief and the confidence and of course the position in the table that is so close to Chelsea, Liverpool and Manchester United and the possibility to fight for a place in the top four. That is our challenge and our target."

Spurs have now lost just one of their last 11 league matches, and the Spurs chief was particularly pleased with the way his side had bounced back after that defeat, at the hands of runaway leaders Manchester City five games ago.

"It's true that Manchester City are keeping their consistency and level during six or seven months and they're doing so well. If you want to win big things like the Premier League or Champions League that is our challenge."

He also complimented Kane, who continues to break records at an alarming rate, adding: "He's fantastic. He deserves all the credit and a lot of praise."

Meanwhile, frustrated Everton boss Allardyce said: "It's a shock second-half performance. I saw some of the good sides of the players last week against Liverpool and I saw some of the worst sides of the players second half today, which is massively worrying in terms of how can a performance become so bad in a short period of time?"

Tottenham Hotspur return to Premier League action on Sunday, January 21 when they travel to St Mary's Stadium to face Southampton (4pm).

Tottenham Hotspur: Hugo Lloris (capt), Jan Vertonghen, Davinson Sanchez, Heung-Min Son, Harry Kane, Eric Dier (Victor Wanyama 74'), Moussa Dembele (Moussa Sissoko 82'), Dele Alli, Christian Eriksen (Erik Lamela 87'), Serge Aurier, Ben Davies (Subs not used: Michel Vorm, Kieran Trippier, Fernando Llorente, Kyle Walker-Peters)

Everton: Jordan Pickford, Phil Jagielka (capt), Yannick Bolasie (Aaron Lennon 57'), Wayne Rooney, Cenk Tosun (Dominic Calvert-Lewin 62'), Cuco Martina, James McCarthy (Morgan Schneiderlin 72'), Idrissa Gueye, Gylfi Sigurdsson, Mason Holgate, Jonjo Kenny (Subs not used: Joel Robles, Ashley Williams, Oumar Niassé, Ademola Lookman)

Non-league round-up

Chester stunned as Rocks roll on

By Brian Jeeves

EAST Thurrock United produced another giant-killing act as Chester were sent packing in a dramatic Buildbase FA Trophy second round tie at Rookery Hill.

Calvin Epiteta bagged the only goal of a tense contest shortly before the 20-minute mark, while Chester debutant, Gary Roberts, was shown a straight red card for a late challenge in the final stages.

The Rocks will be joined in the third round by Billericay Town and Leyton Orient. Town won an entertaining tie with Stourbridge 3-2 at the AGP Arena. Jake Robinson, Ricky Modeste and a last-minute Billy Bricknell goal ensuring their progress.

Earlier, the Black Country outfit had led 2-1, Leon Broadhurst and Stuart Pierpoint finding the net for the Glassboys.

Orient required extra-time to see off Bognor Regis Town at Nyewood Lane. Macauley Bonne and Josh Korona helped the East Londoners through after Jimmy Muitt's late strike restored parity during the regular 90-minutes for the hosts. However, it was the end of the road for Heybridge Swifts who slipped to a 2-1 defeat at Maidstone United. Juan Luque grabbed a consolation for the Swifts after Jamar Lozza and Darius Osei had given the Stones an unassailable advantage before the break.

Chelmsford City rescued a National League South point thanks to Thomas Hitchcock's goal two minutes from time against Bath City at the Melbourne Stadium. Ross Stearn had given the visitors the lead.

Spare a thought for the players, officials and supporters of Concord Rangers who were well on their way to their mammoth trip to Truro City, only to discover that the Treyew Road pitch was waterlogged and the match was off.

Billy Hunt scored twice, one from the penalty spot, while Josh Gould also found the net as Brightlingsea Regent were 3-0 Bostik League Premier Division winners over Worthing at North Road. But Thurrock went down 2-0 against Staines Town at Ship Lane.

Bostik North leaders, AFC Hornchurch, were involved in a thrilling clash with Waltham Abbey at Bridge Avenue. Sam Robbins (og), Theo Fairweather-Johnson, Matthias Fanimo, Nathan Livings and George Purcell all found the net for the home side, while Christian Assombalonga, Billy Holland, Nathan Koranteng and Jack Daveney responded. The eventual outcome, 5-4 to the Urchins.

Lewis Manor (2) and Callum Leahy ensured that Bowers & Pitsea kept up the pace with a 3-1 win at Brentwood Town. Meanwhile, Ryan Melaugh (2, 1 pen), George Sykes, Mitchell Gilbey and Steve Sheehan confirmed Canvey Island's place among the promotion contenders as they won 5-1 at Ware.

Correy Davidson (2) and Elliott Ronto eased Witham Town to a 3-0 win over Tilbury at Chadfields, while Kieran Bishop (2) and Adeyinka Cole (pen) saw Grays Athletic take maximum points with a 3-1 success over AFC Sudbury.

Chris Taylor helped Romford to a notable 2-1 win at Maldon & Tiptree. Oluwole Akinsanya responding for the Jammers.

Aveley won 2-1 on the road at Mildenhall Town, with Lewis Gard and Alex Teniola finding the net.

But Barking missed an opportunity to close in on the play-off places after slipping to a 2-0 defeat at Potters Bar Town.

Essex Senior League provided some huge score-lines, with Takeley thrashing Burnham Ramblers 9-0, and Basildon United hammering Hackney Wick 7-0. Great Wakering Rovers eased past Tower Hamlets 6-1 at Burroughs Park.

There were 3-2 successes on the road for both Southend Manor and Hullbridge Sports at Wadham Lodge and West Essex respectively, while Ilford edged past Sporting Bengal United 2-1. FC Romania won by the same scoreline against Waltham Forest.

Elsewhere, Barkingside and Woodford Town (2017) played out an entertaining 2-2 draw at the Cricklefield Stadium.

Moyes' joy as Arnautovic makes his mark

Huddersfield 1 West Ham 4

WEST Ham United manager David Moyes was satisfied with his side's toil after the East Londoners recorded a resounding 4-1 Premier League success over Huddersfield Town at the John Smith's Stadium.

Mark Noble gave the Hammers a first-half lead, and despite Joe Lolley restoring parity five minutes before the break a devastating three-goal burst, thanks to Marko Arnautovic and a Manuel Lanzini brace immediately after the interval, ensured West Ham their second away victory of the campaign, carrying them up to 11th in the table.

"We've got a long way to go, but the players have done brilliantly well since we came in and a lot of praise must go to them", Moyes told the club's official website.

Arnautovic took his goal tally to six, finding the net just 11 seconds into the second half, and Moyes was quick to praise his contribution to the Hammers' surge up the table.

THREAT: Marko Arnautovic

"I'm really pleased with Marko. Everybody told me he hadn't performed before I came, but everybody knew how good he was at Stoke City, and that's why we paid a big fee for him."

"Giving him a freer role up front has given him a chance to show other sides to his game as well, with the effort and the way he has worked."

"Manu could have played him in a couple of times in the first half but he didn't get the pass. In the end, it was Marko playing in Lanzini to score, so his all-round play was very good. He's done really well."

"The two centre-forwards were a threat all day. Every time it went to them, it looked like they were causing problems. It was a real, terrific team effort. Everyone worked hard and did their jobs and I have to praise them all."

Huddersfield Town: Lossl, Smith (Kongolo 71'), Zanka, Schindler, Malone, Hogg, Mooy, van La Parra, Lolley (Pritchard 65'), Incz, Depoitre (Subs not used: Coleman, Sabiri, Williams, Mourine, Hefele)
